

SHARE YOUR STORY Who is Your Mendocino Heroine?

Kelley House Museum invites you to share stories of historic Mendocino Coast women with influence in the community. They may be used for an upcoming exhibit on the theme "Women's Work," highlighting the vital contributions women have made to the Mendocino Coast, often behind the scenes, shaping the fabric of society.

Consider a great-grandmother, a beloved aunt, or a visionary leader. Perhaps a woman whose dedication to family, community, or a particular craft or trade embodies the spirit of "women's work" (however you define it).

The deadline for submissions is September 15, 2025 (but it may be extended). Depending on how many nominations we receive, we hope (but can't promise) to include most of your submissions.

To submit a nomination, include:

1. Nominee's Information: Full name and relevant dates.
2. A three-sentence summary explaining how this historic woman's life exemplifies "women's work."
3. A photograph of her or some of her memorabilia, if you have any.
4. A link to any other relevant information.
5. Your contact name, email, and phone number.

Send your nomination by clicking the button below.

SEEKING LOANS FOR EXHIBIT

Do you have an item that tells the story of women's work, such as a nurse's cap, a uniform, or a teacher's slate? The museum is seeking artifacts and ephemera for temporary loan to feature in an upcoming exhibit on this important history. Your loan will be returned in April, 2026. Email us with information about what you would like us to consider. Thank you!
